

Attack on Freedom: Round 2

by Guy Montag

The Gestapo is out in full force. Things are getting serious. Not because the virus is proving to be deadlier. But quite the opposite actually. Allow me to explain.

In the beginning of the fake pandemic, and before people had a time to question anything, the media laid the fear on thick. And they haven't slowed down since. It didn't take much time for the Tyranny to take effect. And when it did, the social conditioning was enacted. You've all seen the propaganda. The commercials, hash tags, cartoons telling kids that compliance is what good kids do, and of course the rise of the most detestable creature, the covid sheep.

Sadly, this will not go away anytime soon. I don't mean the virus. It is going away naturally. And the weakening of the rona is driving our Overlords insane. So in order to keep the narrative going, they are pumping all of their resources into programs and methods which have already been established from the beginning. They are increasing the fear by using "cases" to boost the numbers in order to justify continued imprisonment of our populace. And to ensure that they don't lose their grip on the now-willing people, they have ramped up the censorship to new levels. A bullet list would probably summarize a few things better. Our Tyrant Kings have:

- Waged war on our Children's education and social development. Forcing masking, standing in zones, not being permitted to speak or interact with others, etc, is extremely damaging mentally to developing minds. Once the young and impressionable kids become indoctrinated into whatever this is, it will be very difficult to teach them about freedom.
- Stolen our right to privacy. In many jurisdictions, Unconstitutional contact tracing and mandatory "safety checks" are performed on formerly free citizens in the privacy of their own homes. And not just those suspected of having the over-glorified chest cold. Mayors and Governors across the country have put in place programs where "random" homes are selected to receive Government visitors who will then interrogate all present. For now, these activities are supposedly voluntary. But give it a minute.
- Taken your right to travel freely away. In great violation of the Freedom of Movement Act, our glorious leaders have escalated travel bans to ridiculous proportions. When tyrant #1 identifies that the protectorate (formerly a State) of tyrant #2 is reporting more fake cases than they are, tyrant #1 enacts a travel ban, punishing anyone who came from tyrant #2's zone. These bans are being enforced much more now than they were in the beginning. Although most people don't realize it. This is because we are being conditioned, and people are slowly not paying attention to the progressive entrapment we are falling into. More on that In a later post.
- Told you who you can associate with. The banning of large scale gatherings is back. (unless of course you are Mtv and want to do a concert award event in New York. Then it's okay) And like the travel bans, they are actually much more Draconian than they were some months ago. It doesn't end there, however. Some areas are seeing the return of arrests for anyone visiting another friend or family member. On private property.
- Stolen your money. In more ways than one, Government agencies are stealing your money. This goes virtually unchecked and almost no one has mentioned it. That fact makes it likely that they will continue to increase the theft. One example: Parks, libraries, nature preserves, and many other areas and venues which are funded solely by taxpayers, are being denied to taxpayers. Yet, these things are still being paid for. Another example is the issuing of ridiculously large fines for not sheepling enough. I'm not talking about the little city ordinance fines of $50 - $80 either. Those are ridiculously stupid as well. I'm talking about people getting fined tens of thousands of dollars for not wearing a mask. Or in Broward county Florida, $8,000 fines for not wearing the mask "properly".

The fact is, these things are happening. And like in any Dystopian novel, these activities are being indoctrinated into us. But surprisingly, it hasn't been too slowly. Sadly, in a matter of months, we became Oceania. But they're not done yet. And unless we make a stand, these examples I have listed will get worse. In a year from now, I do not want to look back and wish things were "only" this bad. So as for me, I will not comply. I will never cooperate with a contact tracer. I will continue to travel as I wish, and I will continue to use parks and other things that I pay for, rather they are fenced up or not. And if I had kids, they would be home schooled. I don't know about you. But as for me, I like freedom too much to be comfortable right now.

Until next time,
